Welcome to the IUAES 2019 Inter-Congress

It is an honour and gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the International Union of Anthropological and Ethnological Sciences' (IUAES) Inter-Congress "World Solidarities" in Poznań, Poland.

The IUAES 2019 Inter-Congress provides a forum to discuss, interpret and make comprehensive insights into the ways in which anthropology studies human solidarities that exist and emerge at local, regional and global levels of social life and in all corners of the world; solidarities that in our times have to be consciously extended to other species and ecosystems. Notions of compassion, commonality and solidarity are particularly important now, in a period when global warming and social inequalities are forcing whole populations to migrate and causing a rise in exclusionary ideologies. The recent wave of xenophobia and intergroup enmities cannot simply be seen in culturalist terms, but as intertwined with social relations and natural factors. Anthropologists need to broaden the notion of the collective by linking inequalities and ecology. Doing so will help to raise consciousness, define the problems and the emerging new meaning of a collective good, resilience, wellbeing, care, and exchange. By bringing the issue to the table and by active engagement we will fulfil the political task of promoting solidarities against hostilities and mobilising social actors in an effort to make our world a better place to live.

During the Inter-Congress, scholars brought from all over the world have a chance to exchange knowledge, experience, and views, and to show the intellectual and social power of world anthropologies. Poznań, where both the discipline and the University celebrate their centennial, is an excellent venue to show the intellectual force and social importance of anthropology and ethnology.

On behalf of the Organising & Scientific Committee I wish you a fruitful time in Poznań!

Michał Buchowski

*Chair of the Polish Ethnological Society
& Head of the Department of Ethnology
and Cultural Anthropology at Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań*

The International Union of Anthropological and Ethnological Sciences (IUAES) was founded de facto in 1948 and established de jure in 1968. It emerged from important anthropology and ethnology organisations, including one which started in 1865. Since its beginnings, the IUAES's main goal has been to broaden the vision and the concept of anthropological knowledge so that it would be inclusive of perspectives from all parts of the world. This goal is achieved mainly via the organisation of five-yearly World Congresses alongside annual (Inter-)Congresses. In 2018, the IUAES and the WCAA (World Council of Anthropological Associations) together formed the bicameral World Anthropological Union (WAU). The WAU is a member of various global science councils including ISC and CIPSH, and takes up an active advocacy role by issuing statements and letters in support of those in need.

Department of Ethnology and Cultural Anthropology at Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań, is the oldest ethnological/anthropological institution in Poland, established in 1919. With around twenty five faculty members it is one of the leading anthropological centres in the region, involved in international projects, cooperation, faculty and student exchange. Ethnographic research is conducted by the faculty and graduate students in Europe, Latin America, Africa, Central, Southern and Eastern Asia.

Polish Ethnological Society was established in 1895. Currently it has around 700 members. It documents and broadens knowledge on historic and contemporary world cultures as well as propagates tolerance and cross-cultural understanding. The aim of the society is to form and cultivate anthropological interests among its members, to facilitate regional cooperation between ethnologists, to popularise the discipline in the Polish society as well as actively preserve cultural heritage.

INTER-CONGRESS TEAM

IUAES 2019 Inter-Congress Participants are assisted by a team of volunteers, who can be easily identified by orange t-shirts with the Inter-Congress logo. You can ask them about the programme events and their location, they can also assist with the equipment in the lecture rooms. They are supported by professional staff of AMU and Mazurkas company.

If you have any queries, you can approach the members of the Inter-Congress Team at the registration desk. This is also the place to sort out all formal and financial matters (such as payments, certificates etc.).

The members of the IUAES 2019 Organising Committee wear orange badges.

REGISTRATION BADGE & FREE PUBLIC TRANSPORT

With your Inter-Congress badge, which you have received at registration, you can enjoy free public transport in Poznań (till 2 September). Please wear it continuously and show it along with your ID card in the event of an on-board ticket check.

We strongly encourage you to use public transport instead of taxis in order to reduce the exhaust emissions.

REACHING THE MAIN VENUE

Poznań is a relatively compact city and most places can be easily accessed on foot (including AMU Rectorate, Zamek Cultural Centre and all Inter-Congress Clubs). However, the Morasko Campus – the main Inter-Congress venue (and the seat of the Department of Ethnology and Cultural Anthropology) – is located further away from the centre, but is easily reachable by public transport. Type 'Uniwersytetu Poznańskiego 7, Poznań' into Google maps to locate the venue.

The easiest and quickest way to get to the Campus is by taking a Poznań fast tram – it takes only 12 to 15 minutes from the city centre. Just look for trams with numbers: 12, 14, 15 and 16 towards 'Os. Sobieskiego' (the last stop). To search for a suitable connection you can use the 'Jak dojadę' website: <https://jakdojade.pl/poznan/trasa/> – select English language in the upper right corner Settings, type the starting point and the destination (which is 'Os. Sobieskiego'). Stay on the tram until the last stop. Once you arrive at 'Os. Sobieskiego', it will take you 2-3 minutes to walk to the venue – just follow the signs.
